Sponsorship "The Andes Trail"

On August 6th 2010 starts "The Andes Trail". This cycling expedition covers a distance of 11.000 kilometer in more than 4 months. Yes, you read it correctly : a cycling expedition. A small international group starts at the equator monument close to Quito in Ecuador. They hope to arrive safe and sound after 128 days of cycling through five countries in Ushuaia, the most southern point of South-America, also called the "End-of-the-World". The distance of the daily stages vary between 60 and 160 kilometer. The cyclists defy bad roads, heat, primitive circumstances, thin air, illness and other physical inconveniences.

There are hundred of reasons not to participate. You think by yourself : who is doing this, and why ? "Yes, I think on that as well. Hopefully I can tell you at the end."

The cycling event is first of all a great challenge for my self through a fascinating environment which changes continuously. Many times the question will rise however : "Why I am doing this ?". Answer on this question has been found in the set up of a sponsorship organized by Bike-Dreams, the organization that makes "The Andes Trail" possible.

We are in the fortunate position that our cradle, stood in the Western world and as a result, we grew up in freedom and luxury. Life is very different, for millions of children. They have limited choices, and their fate is often restricted by unforeseen circumstances. These children have little or no future.

Bike Dreams has decided to organize this unique trip, not only for its participants, but also for the children who deserve better. Bike Dreams supports already since 2006 the good work of the international charitable institution SOS Children's Villages. The sponsorship makes it possible not only to cycle through South-America, but also to cycle for South-America.

You can decide yourself how to sponsor :

- An amount per each cycled kilometer(s)
- An amount per finished stage
- A fixed amount

You can fill in the form on the next page and return it to me.

All donations are used entirely for SOS Children's Villages. Every donation is more then welcome. The organization and the children in South-America will be very grateful with your donation and I am grateful to you for the support to these children.
